

Housing Assistance Services

The Housing Assistance Services (HAS) program helps individuals with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities whom are living with their families navigate New York City's vast housing system. HAS offers advocacy support, information and referrals for individuals seeking accessible and affordable housing who are OPWDD eligible. We also provide access to home modification funds.

What We Offer:

- Housing and accessibility rights education
- Eviction prevention and housing court information
- Referrals for Rent Arrears
- Assistance with affordable, low-income and accessible housing
- Home modification resources and referrals

What's Needed to Apply:

Must be living at home or with family. In order to qualify for the Housing Assistance Services program, at least one individual in the household must have a documented developmental or intellectual disability and eligible for OPWDD services.
